I also watched several videos that Kyle made. After a few promptly answered questions through exchanged emails I decided to Purchase the "Bolton Black Bird" on sale. I also purchased an extra battery & cradle to mount on the rear rack. I went on a 25 mile ride and only used 50% of one battery! Love the bike and can't say enough ...

1500?? Sheesh. I thought my 750watt Bolton for my Rover was a lot (it is). Massive torque, top speed, so far without tweaking the controller settings AT ALL, is 35.5mph on a flat with no wind which is rare where I live. I know it can hit 40 but even 35 is more than enough. Their controller really helps control the battery drainage issues well ...
