Cape Verde has the third-largest population of nesting loggerhead turtles in the world, which makes it perfect for turtle watching. Most nest on the islands of Boavista and Sal between July and October, and August is the main month for observations. On both islands, there are several small turtle conservation projects aimed at protecting the turtle [...]

Battery energy storage: how does it work? Battery energy storage does exactly what it says on the tin - stores energy. As more and more renewable (and intermittent) generation makes its way onto the ...

The network of two islands from Cape Verde is used as inspiration for the models due to the relevance of their layout and configuration, but also the country's renewable penetration targets. All the data has been provided by Electra and Cabe&#243;lica, the local System Operator and largest renewable utility of the country respectively. The data is ...

Ryse Energy has provided reliable access to energy to a village of 700 people in Cape Verde, that were previously living without energy, helping to shift the energy balance. This micro-generation plant, has a nominal power of 45 kW and is capable of supplying peaks of more than 100 kW.

Cape Verde is undertaking a pilot project on batteries energy storage for Renewable Integration. Mercados - Aries International participated in the Project performing the following services: System and Grid Modelling and dynamic studies of the distribution network of Cape Verde.

In the context of the energy transition, where the number and diversity of the grid-related research is ever expanding, we propose a reference system based on two islands of Cape Verde. These isolated power systems capture the behaviour of modern, mid & large size grids ranging from 20 to 100% renewable energy penetration, accommodating a very ...
